

Variety

YouTube Will Make Video Uploads Private by Default for Kids Under 18

Engadget

Instagram's new anti-hate feature lets you limit comments and requests on popular posts

Reuters

Facebook removes Russian network that targeted influencers to peddle anti-vax messages

Fierce Wireless

Cox fights municipal private wireless in Tucson

Next|TV

Newsmax on the \$1.6 Billion Dominion Suit: We 'Simply Reported' Those Unsubstantiated Voter Fraud Claims

Light Reading

2021 Cable Hall of Fame event moved to November 15

Pennlive

Why you might get a text message from FEMA on Wednesday

Yahoo! News

Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene suspended by Twitter for a week after false claim about COVID vaccines

The Hill

Rand Paul suspended one week by YouTube over COVID-19 mask claims

Associated Press

Senate passes Dems' \$3.5 trillion budget blueprint

Associated Press

EXPLAINER: What the \$65B broadband service plan will do

WJAC

U.S. Department of Education approves PA American Rescue Plan funding

Northcentral PA

Pa. Public Utility Commission approves petitions to expand broadband access in most rural parts of the state

Vice

Researchers Create 'Master Faces' to Bypass Facial Recognition

Fierce Telecom

AT&T expects to miss fiber target by 500k due to supply chain issues

Pennlive

Nearly $19 billion for bridges, roads, and more: Here's what Pa. could get in Senate infrastructure bill

The U.S. Senate has approved a bill directing $1 trillion toward highways, bridges, expanding broadband and a host of other areas, and the measure could deliver billions of dollars to the Keystone State. The Senate passed the bill Tuesday with a vote of 69-30. The bipartisan support for the bill could be as eye-popping as the billions in new spending.

READ MORE

Axios

Big Telecom comes out on top in $65B broadband upgrade

The White House-backed infrastructure bill now moving toward Senate approval divvies up $65 billion in broadband funding in ways that largely please the big cable and telecom companies.

The big picture: President Biden's spending blueprints and talking points stoked alarm in the industry over the prospect of price regulation or government-backed networks, but the legislation that's moving forward is much more to its liking.

READ MORE

Broadband Cable Association of Pennsylvania

