

Proud members of BCAP...

the nation's first state cable association!

The name that launched an industry.

Serving homes and businesses

TV Everywhere

1 Gig High-Speed Internet Digital Phone

Connecting Pennsylvanians since 1948

secv.com

December 2, 2020

Broadband Technology Report
[Cogeco appoints
new SVP/CTO](#)

AT&T SportsNet Pittsburgh and Verizon have reached a deal to return the regional sports network to the FiOS TV lineup, effective immediately. AT&T SportsNet, home to Penguins and Pirates games, went dark on Verizon systems on Sept. 30 following a retransmission spat over a new contract.

Politico
Trump's FCC chief leaves legacy of deregulation and 5G fights

A joint release issued by Verizon on behalf of Verizon and AT&T SportsNet did not offer specific terms of the "long-term agreement" for carriage of the sports network, which can be found in the Pittsburgh region on Channels 76 and 1525 and in HD on Channel 576 with an alternate channel on 81 and 1528 and in HD on 581 when there are programming conflicts (e.g. two games of local interest at once) on SportsNet's primary channel.

The Verge

The CEO of Alamo Drafthouse on Going Back to the Movies

Associated Press Pennsylvania expands virus app to school-age phone users

TechCrunch Google Maps takes on Facebook with launch of its own news feed

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette NFL Game 177, better known as Steelers-Ravens II, causes stir for league and NBC

Spotlight PA GOP leadership silent after Pa. senator tests positive for COVID-19 following maskless election event

Politico Trump threatens to veto defense bill over social media rule

Earlier this year ATT SportsNet secured carriage on streaming options fuboTV (launching by Jan. 1), AT&T TV and AT&T TV Now, offering consumers an OTT (over the top) delivery alternative to traditional cable and satellite distribution services. – Pittsburgh Tribune-Review

Republicans attempting to undo President-elect Joe Biden's victory in Pennsylvania asked the U.S. Supreme Court on Tuesday to take up their lawsuit, three days after it was thrown out by the highest court in the battleground state.

In the request to the U.S. Supreme Court, Republican U.S. Rep. Mike Kelly of northwestern Pennsylvania and the other plaintiffs are asking the court to prevent the state from certifying any contests from the Nov. 3 election, and undo any certifications already made, such as Biden's victory. They maintain that Pennsylvania's expansive vote-by-mail law is unconstitutional because it required a constitutional amendment to authorize its provisions. Biden beat President Donald Trump by more than 80,000 votes in Pennsylvania, a state Trump had won in 2016.

Pennsylvania's Supreme Court on Saturday night threw out the lawsuit, including an order by a lower court judge blocking the certification of any uncertified races. Justices cited the law's 180-day time limit on filing legal challenges to its provisions, as well as the staggering demand that an entire election be overturned retroactively.

In the state's courts, Kelly and the other Republican plaintiffs had sought to either throw out the 2.5 million mail-in ballots submitted under the law — most of them by Democrats — or to wipe out the election results and direct the state's Republican-controlled Legislature to pick Pennsylvania's presidential electors. – Associated Press

127 State Street, Harrisburg, PA 17101
717-214-2000 (f) 717-214-2020
bcapa.com

First in Broadband.
The Future of Broadband.®